

27 February, 2012

Australia Post
Superannuation Scheme

ABN 42 045 077 895
Locked Bag A5005
Sydney South NSW 1235
Telephone 1300 360 373

Address
Address
Address

Letter to all Members except Opt
Out Members (refer to separate letter for Opt Out Members)

Dear <firstname>

Australia Post has notified the APSS Trustee that Australia Post will not be offering APSS defined benefit superannuation to its new employees from 1 July 2012.

There are no changes to existing Members' benefits in the APSS and you do not need to take any action.

Australia Post has assured the APSS Trustee that:

- This decision will not change your existing APSS superannuation arrangements
- This decision will not change your APSS Member Savings Accounts in any way (Employee, Spouse, Rollover or Pension Accounts)
- Your defined benefit superannuation entitlements in the APSS will continue to grow in line with salary and years of service

If you are an Australia Post employee, you will receive a separate 'Superannuation Update' and letter from Australia Post with more information about this decision

The APSS Trustee is committed to open, transparent and timely communication with our Members. In line with this, although Australia Post's decision does not affect you as an existing APSS Member, we will keep you informed of updates and progress on this matter.

If you have questions regarding this letter, please contact APSS SuperPhone on 1300 360 373 send us an email online via apss.com.au.

Yours sincerely

Len Early
Chairman, PostSuper Pty Ltd
Trustee of the APSS

Considering Opting Out of the APSS?

If you are considering opting out of the APSS to another superannuation fund, you should contact the APSS Superphone on 1300 363 373 to obtain some important information about changes that may affect your decision.